CUSTOMER BASE

Our customer base consists of freight forwarders anywhere around the globe. Forwarders not only are in close contact with shippers in industries such as automotive, aerospace, pharmaceuticals, marine, high- end fashion and oil & gas; they also have excellent knowledge of the requirements of their customers and know the local market very well.

Many well-known freight-forwarding companies regularly turn to Wings on Board for an emergency response solution prioritizing the interests of the forwarder and customer.

From any pick-up location to any delivery address in the world!

A breakdown of your customers' supply chain or production line is always unexpected and could emerge at any given time during day or night. You need to provide a solution as promptly as possible without any time zone restriction. Telling your customer that your overseas office or partner is closed or it's a national holiday is not acceptable.

Wings on Board could provide a detailed plan in 15 - 30 minutes, including all related costs from pick-up to final delivery plus any additional costs for services required, for example customs clearance. On the other hand, having a courier on standby and ready is essential. Just few minutes after confirmation the courier could be on the way to the pick-up address.

Our onboard couriers are trained and capable to deliver large consignments that comply with all national/international and airline ordinance and due to the current COVID-19 situation. These includes check-in, excess baggage, dangerous goods (hazmat), and temperature-controlled items. What sets Wings on Board apart is our specific knowledge of local customs regulations in the most diverse countries and the way in which declarations must be done.

The ability to select an onboard courier with the proper travel documents without jeopardizing the deadline for delivery as required by the customer, is the promise we make!

TRACKING & TRACING MADE EASY

Customers are able to monitor their consignment and the onboard courier in real time, from pick-up to delivery. All of our couriers have a state-of-the-art, in-house developed app installed on their smartphone. This app allows them to communicate with the Wings on Board Control Tower, which is 24/7/365 in operation.
